

Sex Afenders In My Area [PORTABLE]

Protect Your Home with Free Crime Prevention and Safety Tips Parents need to know that sex offenders have specific locations they must live in, work in, and try to avoid. Online forms can help you find the addresses of listed offenders. There are two forms of SORs in Florida. The traditional county-based form of the registry only lists offenders in the county where the sex offense was committed; the live-online form also lists offenders where their victim lived as well. The lives-online form of the registry lists offenders based on the counties where the victim lived at the time of the sex offense. SORs are part of Florida's civil commitment system. SORs were created after the U. S. Supreme Court ruled in Offender Registry by ZIP Code, Sex Offender Live Map, and Statewide Registry. The map shows location of registered sex offenders, including both tier I and tier II. These offenders are persons convicted of either a sexual offense or attempted sexual offense; "Deliver," "Sell," "Promote," "Possess with Intent," and "Solicit" are included. The offender is located using the address as reported on the SOR to the Department of Corrections. Offender addresses are listed by zip code. The registry lists the offender's name, birth date, race, and offense. Offender Name: I seen him about 3 months ago on foot and I went back to get a picture but he had gone. To find the offender in your area, select the sex offender type and choose the state and county where the offender resided, worked or frequented. You can also use the map to find offenders near you. Go to the map and select the "+" sign to view all offenders in the county. Sex Offender Offender List Search - This tool allows you to search for counties, cities, police precincts, and U.S. states and find the location of convicted sex offenders. You can search by name, place, offense, date range, and more. In 2003, the Ohio Department of Rehabilitation and Correction (the Ohio Department) adopted the Interstate Compact on Offender Supervision and Enforcement as part of its sex-offender-management program.
